

Is jintong solar container good

Is JinkoSolar a good solar company?

Over at r/ChinaStocks we're doing due diligence on JinkoSolar. It's a Chinese solar company that seems to be doing great. Solar power is continuing to advance and is getting more economical and efficient. I think Solar will be big in China, especially with rising electricity demand from electric cars and everything else.

What is a solarcontainer?

The Solarcontainer is a photovoltaic power plant that was specially developed as a mobile power generator with collapsible PV modules as a mobile solar system, a grid-independent solution represents. Solar panels lay flat on the ground. This position ensures maximum energy harvest Panels lays flat on the ground.

Is Jinko a Tier 1 PV producer?

I did my research and they were a tier 1.5, or even a tier 1 panel producer. Jinko are the world's #1 pv manufacturer. You don't get to be #1 by making shit panels.

How many installers does a solarcontainer need?

At least 3-4 installers and 1 crane operator are needed to put the Solarcontainer into operation within one day. How many households can one Solarcontainer supply with electricity?

Is Jinko a good brand?

Jinko are the world's #1 pv manufacturer. You don't get to be #1 by making shit panels. If something goes wrong with a panel, and you need to claim on warranty, you want them to be from an established company with an office in your country, not some obscure brand that might not be around in 10 years.

Should I buy a jinkos 370 or a Eging 370?

Means I can get 6.66kW from 18 panels. They're slightly more expensive than the Eging 370s (a difference of about AUD$400 for a 6.66kw system) but have a better reputation. I always offer the customer the option of going with EGings and saving $400, but so far everyone's been happy to go with Jinkos.
